Developing Practices and Materials for Counseling

Guided Pathways BEGINS with the correct connection between the student's goals and reasons for attending college and the types of programs, scheduling and exploration available for students. How do we meet students where they are at and help them understand pathways and support available to help create rigorous goals and realistic plans. Join us as we begin to look at Guided Pathways counseling tools.

Research*: Thinking about Academic Advising in a New Way

• GP asking colleges to rethink paradigms around counseling
• Counselors receive lots of student input, but how do we collect this, validate and use it to improve the college?
• How do we use advising to give students voice?

*From Bourdon and Carduzzi (2002) in What Works in the Community Colleges: A Synthesis of the Literature on Best Practices
Thinking about Academic Advising in a New Way

“Students are likely to persist in their efforts at learning when they feel they are in control. Students are likely to feel in control when the factors attributed to their outcomes are seen as internal, stable and controllable.”*

Advising and student support are the architecture underneath guided pathways.

What we are driving towards: SSIP

Sustained
Ongoing support rather than an “inoculation” approach

Strategic
Differentiated services to maximize capacity

Intrusive and integrated
Services are an integral part of all students’ experiences, and are not viewed as stand-alone interventions.

Personalized
Students receive the support they need when they need it, from an individual who knows them well.
Transformation?

- What is the field saying?
- ASCCC counseling survey distributed in May 2018
- “The Transformation of counseling Along Guided Pathways Sidelines” Rostrum article in October 2018

Key Questions and Areas to Explore

- Where are counselors being located on campus?
- How are counselor assignments and duties being assigned?
- How do adjunct counselors fit in?
- How is counseling coverage managed in a caseload or pathway structure?
- How does GP affect other areas of student services, such as categorical programs?
- How are counseling “peak-times” managed?
- Are paraprofessionals being used, and if so, how?
