Guided Pathways Liaison Memo

December 2017

Greetings!

As you are aware California community colleges are facing transformational times as colleges begin to explore foundational reforms based on guided pathways principles intended to support students in their educational endeavors. As colleges are engaged in development of their own guided pathways frameworks, faculty have the opportunity to be on the forefront of that redesign and to have faculty voices lead various design and implementation efforts that work with their local culture and students' needs.

As a guided pathways liaison to the Academic Senate for California Community College, your participation on this listserv is an opportunity to stay informed and connected in relation to our challenges and successes as they pertain to academic and professional matters and the development of guided pathways frameworks. Several resources and documents are available to inform your work locally and to share with your local senates and/or campuses:
