OERI Canvas Space

Greetings local OER advocates!

Please note that we have a new tinyurl for accessing our Canvas space - tinyurl.com/ASCCC-OpenEd - and we have some new features. If you, or your colleagues, are “registering” at the site in order to participate in Discussions, please use the same log-in that you use to log into your local Canvas instance. This will simplify access and prevent the complexities associated with having multiple accounts.

OER Opportunities

The OERI is currently seeking faculty to serve in a variety of roles. This application process will create a pool of faculty from which we will select reviewers for newly developed resources, so we have a true need for a faculty from a broad array of disciplines - including those who may or may not have experience with OER.

The ASCCC OERI Application can be completed through September 27. Interested faculty will need to complete BOTH the OERI application and the ASCCC Faculty Application for Statewide Service.

The OERI Application is also available via tinyurl.com/OERI-APP19. The ASCCC Application is also available via tinyurl.com/ASCCC-App.

Save the Date - Discipline-Specific OER Discussion and/or Development

We will be holding two one-day events at the end of October. Each will be an open meeting of faculty in the selected disciplines who will be sharing OER, discussing OER needs, and/or developing OER. Liaisons are more than welcome to attend - and we will be counting on you to recruit the appropriate faculty.

Sharing Your OER - From creating it to letting other people judge your baby

After authoring a resource that you intend to make open, how do you get past your shyness about sharing it and contributing to the OER universe? This session will explore the topic from varied perspectives, including one author's journey, approaches to providing effective feedback, and a discussion of how the OERI can help.

Creative Commons, Copyright, and Fair Use - Why do we need OER?

What is the difference between free content, open content, and fair use? Educators often overestimate what they can do with the fair use copyright exception and underestimate their options with open resources. Join us to learn about the requirements of fair use as well as how to interpret Creative Commons licenses.
